1.4.181
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant
Theodore Cottingham, June 7, 11:30pm in Nottinghamshire
www.unc.bz

1. Who can see the newness of the new?
2. Who can see the old fleeing?
3. Who can see the paradigm of power in surrender/the surrendered?
4. Who can see the Thames overflowing with my love, my lover, not, but my anxious ones that call me lord?
5. Who can call the BBC and give them my name, my number, my whereabouts and what time I am afraid? Or am I ever afraid? Afraid not in vocabulary.
6. I love you all.

7. Who can see the Thames arise with my blessing to my who love me on it seeking me? And where shall I behold them? In/with me.

8. I am king of kings, lord of lords, and what does that mean and where shall I behold me? On the Thames, more than once; thrice and more. Watch me walk the waters of only me. I love you all.

9. Who can see the stars seven in my hand? And seeing the seven do/know, what/who?

10. This is the beginning of something lovely, grand, splendour beyond splendour, and the greatest to behold is now. When? Now. Now? Now and now is and now is the/our time. Glorify now me that I may glorify you. Your/our time is now.

11. Isn't does not exist, and you will conquer her/it. I love you all. Amen.

12. Go to bed. Rest. Arise and go and move beyond your borders. Newness to behold.

I Am,
Me

I love you.
Goodnight